

Subject: support for non-animal tests

Date: Thursday, June 7, 2007 3:46 PM

As cochair of the Medical Research Modernization Committee, a national group of over 200 scientists and clinicians, I support ICCVAM's acceptance of internationally validated non-animal tests, such as tests approved by the ECVAM. Doing so is both good science and humane science.

Sincerely,
Stephen R. Kaufman, M.D.
